210 Gymleco seated row

200 series Cable and Smith machines

Seated row with PowerBand™ and weight stack. Small footprint, smooth and ergonomic design with high quality materials. Thanks to the ergonomic angles, you get the full movement of a rowing exercise which is great for your back. You also have the large foot support so that you can place your feet in your preferred position.

You have zero settings in the machine which makes it easy to use for everyone, both beginners and advanced athletes. The machine is designed to take up minimal space at the gym. Perfect for all kind of gyms where the surface needs to be optimized.
